No lobby days event AAJ will be hosting this year is more important than the 2011 Women Trial Lawyers Caucus Lobby Days, scheduled for May 25 and 26!

Your Clients' Voices Must Be Heard! With the change in leadership in the U.S. House of Representatives, we know what's coming and we've already seen it start: numerous attacks on the civil justice system and countless fights to protect your clients' rights. Who better to persuade a bunch of legislators than a group of dynamic women, in force! Women trial lawyers must rally to show Congress that civil justice issues affect everyone!

Women Trial Lawyers Caucus Lobby Days is an incredibly effective way to communicate with elected officials and a terrific opportunity to put a fresh face on the civil justice system, while allowing you the opportunity to network with other women trial lawyers from across the country.

No Lobbying Experience Necessary! AAJ will provide a comprehensive briefing on legislative issues on May 25th, followed by a reception with key legislators. The next morning, we hit the Hill in teams to lobby U.S. Senators and Representatives. You'll leave Washington with a real sense of accomplishment, knowing you have helped make a difference for your clients and the future of your practice.
