Use Statement • Terms and Conditions of Use • AAJ Exchange Confidential Search Information

Contents of the Exchange

AAJ Exchange materials obtained through the Exchange databases and other Exchange products and services contain, among other things, one or more of the following: verdicts, settlements, legal references, expert witness information, court documents, corporate documents, depositions, similar matters/inquirers listings, Law Reporters, Litigation Packets, and other case materials and legal resources. For further information about specific cases listed in verdicts and settlements, similar matters, and expert or other listings, members should contact the court or the lawyer listed as counsel. These items are not available to the public or to the general AAJ Membership.

Conditions of Use

I certify that this query is made on behalf of a plaintiff (or a defendant in a criminal case) and I am in no way associated with any defendants or defense interests in this matter ("defense interests"). I certify that I am a Regular, Sustaining, Life, or President's Club member of AAJ and that I seek admission to this Web site and access to the Exchange materials for the sole and exclusive purpose of assisting clients of my law firm in the prosecution of their cases, and for the purpose of sharing knowledge of our firm with other attorneys concerned on behalf of their clients with common questions of law and fact. By making an Exchange request, I allow my name and case summary to be added to the Exchange database. By using the AAJ Exchange, I agree to respond when contacted by other AAJ members investigating cases similar to my case summary and to share case information and documents with those members as deemed appropriate.

Privileged Attorney Work Product

Exchange materials are being provided to me as an Exchange user for the limited purpose of use in the prosecution of my client's rights in a particular civil case (or the defense of my client's rights in a particular criminal case), and consultation on common questions of law and fact. By requesting this information, I acknowledge that the materials and communications I receive become my attorney work product and that the Exchange materials and communications I obtain are prepared in anticipation of litigation or for trial and are intended for my or my firm's exclusive use on behalf of my or my firm's client(s).

Disclosure

Any and all Exchange materials and communications SHALL NOT be disclosed to nonmembers of AAJ, a member of AAJ who could directly or indirectly be identified as representing a defense interest, a defendant, a criminal prosecutor, or any other person not assisting in your case. Exchange users are not to disclose information upon a Request for Production of Documents or a Motion to Compel Discovery. Exchange materials SHALL NOT be disclosed in this type of a judicial process, without first asserting defenses against production. To protect Exchange materials as your work product obtained for use in a particular litigation, you should assert, among others, the following defenses: (1) The Exchange contains value-added content and is not merely a repository of information; (2) Exchange materials and communications that you selected were obtained in anticipation of litigation and, therefore, represent your work product in the prosecution of your or your firm's client's case; (3) any and all corporate documents acquired directly or indirectly through the Exchange (and now sought by the defense) are accessible at less cost and greater efficiency by contacting the corporation itself; (4) disclosure of Exchange materials and communications before trial and early in the discovery process is premature, as you have not yet determined what Exchange materials, if any, will be used at trial. Additionally, AAJ recommends you contact defense counsel, and inform defense counsel that if Exchange materials are sought, you will seek similar materials that defense counsel has acquired through the Defense Research Institute, the Products Liability Counsel, and all other defense-side litigation support entities you can identify. It is essential to preserve the privilege you may properly assert. Accordingly, if your materials are requested, for additional information on how to protect your Exchange materials from production, contact AAJ immediately by calling (800) 344-3023, extension 615.

Exchange materials may not be resold under any circumstance.

I certify that I have read the foregoing and understand its terms and conditions, and I agree to comply with all terms and conditions therein.
